CIRCUIT COURT.

Interesting Proceedings in Regard to th Arrest of Judge Me. rick.

Arrest of Judge Me.rick.

Yesterday morning, at the hour of opening the circuit court, Judges Dunlop and Morsel appeared in the court-room, but withdrew immediately to the marsfall's effice, where they remained some time in consultation. At noon they returned to the court-room, and, after the court had been formally opened, Judge Dunlop announced that be had received the following communication from Judge Marrick, who is now under the surveillance of the Provos Marshal, which he read to the bar, there being a large number of them pressed, as well as a larger number of speciators than is usual:

JUDGE MERRICK'S LETTER.

On Saturday, the 10th of October, 1861, Mr. Foley, a lawyer of this city, called upon me with a petition, supported by affidavit in proper form, praying for a writ of habeas corpus to the Provest Marshal, requiring him to produce before the undersigned one John Murphy, who it alleged was a minor, under the age of eighten years, and illegally detained by said Provest Marshal as an enlisted soldier of the United States. The order was given by me to the clerk, who issued the writ in the usual form. I was informed by Mr. Foley, on the afternoon of Saturday, that, by reason of the muny engagements of the deputy marshal of the Diatrict of Columbia, he himself took the writ and served it, as by law he rightfully might do, upon the Provest Marshal, General A. Porter; that when he delivered the writ to the Provest, served it, as by law he rightfully might do, upon the Provost Marshal, General A. Porter; that when he delivered the writ to the Provost, he was told by him that he would consult the secretary (I think he said the Secretary of Rate) whether he should respect the writ or not, and that he (Mr. Foley) must consider missaff under arrest, but for the present might to at large as upon his parole. Later in the fifternoon, Mr. Foley again called at my house, with one or two other persons—one, I think, was represented as the elder brother or some near relation of the boy Murphy—and desired to know whether he were now to consider the boy as finally discharged, and at liberty to return home to his friends, inasmuch as he had than been dismissed from the guard-house. I defined to make any suggestion to him in the premises, and told him that whatsoever I did in the matter must be done judicially, and after facts had been spread before me upon affidavit and the apprepriate motion, if any, made thereon; and that, as the court would meet on Monday morning. October 21st, in regular term, I should adjourn all proceedings under the writinto court, for the advice and action of the whole court.

He stated that he would reduce all the facts to writing, make affidavit, and file them; for into court, for the advice and action of the whole court.

He stated that he would reduce all the facts to writing, make affidavit, and file them; for that he expected to be arrested. He then withdrew. On Monday morning, just before the meeting of court, I went into the clerk's office, and asked Charles McNamee, the deputy clerk, if Mr. Foley had filed any affidavits in the case. He examined the papers, and reported there was none. I then directed him to endorse upon the papers that they were, by my order, adjourned into the court for its further action. After the adjournment of the court, I was informed, by a member of the bar, that about 11 o'clock that morning, Mr. Foley had been arrested and placed in the guard-house by order of the Provost Marshal, and he announced his purpose to apply, for his release. I told him that whatever application he had to make must be in writing upon proper affidavit, and that as the whole court was in regular session, he must make it to the court in full sitting; and he withdrew to confer with some of his brother lawyers upon his course. After dinner, I visited my brother judges in Georgetown, and returning home between half past seven and eight o clock, found an armed sentinel stationed at my door as early as five o'clock; armed sentries from that time continuously until now have been stationed in front of my house. Thus it appears that a military officer, against whom a writ in the appointed form of law has issued, first threatened with and afterwards arrested and imprisoned the autorney who rightfully served the writ upon him. He continued, and still continues, in contempt and disregard of the mandate of the law, and has ignominously placed an armed guard to insult and intimidate, by its presence, the judge who ordered the writ to issue, and still keeps up this armed array at his door, in defance and contempt of the justice of the circuit court to cause this memorandum to be read in open court, to show the reasons for my absence from my alone mund. spectfully request the chief justice of the circuit court to cause this memorandum to be read in open court, to show the reasons for my absence from my place upon the bench; and that he will cause this paper to be entered at length on the minutes of the court, alongside the record of my absence, to show, through all time, the reasons why I do not, this 22d of October, 1861, appear in my accustomed place.

WM. M. MERRICK,

Assistant Judge of the Circuit Court
Of the District of Columbia.

Of the District of Columbia.

Judge Danlop then announced that Judge Morsell and himself, the two remaining judges, had, upon consultation, thought best to order the letter to be entered upon the minutes, agreeably to the request of their fellow-judge. They also thought that, as the writ alluded to in the letter had been regularly issued, it was proper to state the matter was now before this court to be tried.

The statement of their fellow judge presents a case where the progress of the law is obstructed, and the remedy it is the duty of the court to afford, and, if the facts were as stated, to cause the law to be respected. As the Pro-vost Marshal had obstructed a process regu-harly issued by the court, it would order a rule to be served on General Andrew Porter, to appear before the court, and show cause why at attachment for contempt of court should not be issued against him.

attachment for contempt of court should not be issued against him.

Judge Morsell said that this proceeding was a palpable, gross obstruction to the admin stration of justice, to prevent a judge of this court from taking his seat, because he issued just such a writ as the law requires. The placing of a sentinel before Judge Merrick's house was evidently for the purpose of embarrassing him in this particular subject, and to prevent his appearance in court. He would make the rule broader, so as to have Mr. Provest satisfy the court in both matters. The court has its duty to perform, as judges are sworn to do, and that duty is the administration of justice according to law. What is the real state of things? If martial law is to be our guide, we look to the President of the United States to say so. He (Judge Morsell) did not pretend to controvert the right of the President to proclaim martial law, but let him issue, his proclamation. The judges have their duty to do under the law, and they are liable to be punished if they do not do it.

The judge proceeded to speak of the rule which would be say-ished if they do not do it.

The judge proceeded to speak of the rule which would be served and concluded by saying, "I intend to do my duty, and vindicate the character of this court as long as I sit here. I am an old man, and have but a few years to live."

The following writ was then issued on Gen. Porter:

DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA, to wit:

District of Columbia, to wit:

The United States of America,
To Andrew Porter, Provost Marshal of the District of Columbia, greating:
It is this 22d day of October, 18si, ordered by the circuit court of the District of Columbia, that you show cause why an attachment of contempt should not be issued against you, for obstructing the process and course of justice and administration of it in the circuit court in the particular case set forth in the letter of the Hon. Judge Merrick, hereto annexed, on Saturday, the 25th day of October instant, at ten o'clock A. M. of that day, in said circuit court, in the City Hall of the city of Washington.

of the Circuit Court of the District of Columbia.

The larger part of the spectators then left the court-room, and the balance of the day was occupied in calling the docket.

The Harletown Case Again.

The charge against Sergeant John V. Bryan, of the fifth ward police, for assaulting and falsely imprisoning H. R. Maryman, on the ist inst., (the particulars of which transaction our readers are already acquainted with.) was heard resterday afternoon, before Justice B. W. Ferguson. G. L. Giberson, Esq., appeared for the prosecution, and W. J. Stone, Esq., for the defence.

Some six or eight witnesses were examined, one of whom, Mr. Conway, testified that he made the arrest at the instance of the colone of a regiment near by, who stated that he would appear to make the charge in the morning.

would appear to make the charge in the morning.

Mr. Maryman testified that he appealed to Bryan as to what he was arrested for, and the only reply was, that he would have to go to the watch-house.

Af er the case had been argued by the counsel, Justice Ferguson announced that he would reserve his decision until noon to-day, (Wednesday.)

An Etopement in Georgetown.

The island and the Northern Liberties have each had their elopements recently, and now we hear that Georgetown, not to be outdone, has also followed suit. A few evenings since, a young gentleman, nineteen years of age, and a young lady of fifteen, were promenading the streets of our ancient, but respectable, neighboring city, when the idea occurred to them of testifying their regard for union principles, by appearing before a parson and being "lined" in the holy bonds of matrimory. Little sooner said than done, and a few hours later, the thing was accompished, when the pair returned to the residence of the mother of the young lady, by whom they were as cordially received as if nothing unusual had happened. Not so, however, when the young man sought his own pater familias, where, instead of smiles, he received only frowns, both the old gentleman and the old la y insisting that the mother of the young lady was the person who had brought the match about. Pater familias, after administering a severe lecture to the young bridegroom, wound up by stating that he intended sending him to the West, there to remain until he should become capable of supporting his wife. The old gentleman has not yet attempted to put his threat into execution, however, and the newly married pair are enjoying the honeymon at the residence of the bride. the newly married pair are enjoying the honey moon at the sesidence of the bride.

Fatal Accident.

On Monday afternoon, about three o'clock, as Major Lewis, of the tweifth (Syracuse) New York regiment, was returning from a ride on horseback to his wife's boarding house, (Mrs. Frederick's,) on Capitol Hill, he was thrown, or fell from, his horse and dislocated his neck. Ho lived only a few minutes. On leaving his wife in the morning, he had promised to come and dine with her, and was on his return to her, when the accident occurred. His body was immediately removed to Mrs. Frederick's.

Another.

Another.

About the same time, a soldier named Wilson, attached to the cavalry company which arrived here on Sunday, and was quartered on Capitol Hill, was thrown from his horse in the vicinity of his quarters, and killed.

Horrible Death from Hydrophobia.

Mr. Schoeffner, the unfortunate man who was bitten by a mad dog on the 29th of August, and who ever since that time had been enduring the most terrible agony, died on Monday morning. Before his death, it was found necessary to bind him; but the cords were burst asunder as fast as they were placed upon him. His funeral took place yesterday afternoon, and was attended by the order of Red Men and the Independent Brotherhood, of which he was an esteemed member.

Some Apple.

We were yesterday shown a mammoth apple of the Royal Russett variety, grown by Mr. A. E. L. Keese, in his garden on N street, near Pifth, which measures fourteen inches in circumference, and weighs one pound and two ounces. Mr. Keese has also some pears on his premises which measure sixte and weigh a pound and a quarter.

Deaths of Soldiers.

The following soldiers died yesterday:
Charles Wilsen, company B, Lincoln cavalry, at the College.
Paul La Fontaine, company I, Fourth Michigan Services.

Paul la Fontaine, company I, Fourth Michi-gan, at the Seminary.

Corporal H. Bilbery, company A, Fifth Penn-sylvania Reserve, Chalds Biddle, company M. Thirty-third Pennsylvania, and George Watkins, company E, Eleventh Pennsylvania, at the camps.

Serenade to Governor Sprague.

A serenade was given to Governor Sprague, night before last, by the band of the Fourth Rhode Island regiment, Colonel McCarthy commanding. It was a compliment well deserved and gracefully paid.

On Monday, Parolmen Hannon, Pendle and Grant arrested a number of women residing in 'Swampoodle,' on the charge of stealing wood, belonging to the Government, from the cars. They were all taken before Justice Donn, who committed two of them, yesterday, for court. From the statements of the officers it appears that a number of families have, by this means, furnished themselves with wood.

The Cry is, Still they Come!
And all we can hear is, "War! war!"
But, for my part, I am tired of the old story of war.
But, oh! Mrs. Brown, have you heard the very intest news? No. Why. SMITH, No. 400 Seventh street, has just received a new stock of FALL CLOTHING of every description, and he offers to sell them at such low prices. They say he has a knack of selling his goods at lower rates than the other stores. How he does it, I do not know. But, for my part, I can assure you, Mrs. Brown, that he can fit out your boys with nice CLOTHIN is at remarkably low prices. I advise all to call at SMITH'S, No. 450 Seventh street, opposite Post Office, and look at his New Stock, and they will be convinced that what Mrs. Jones said, is so.
